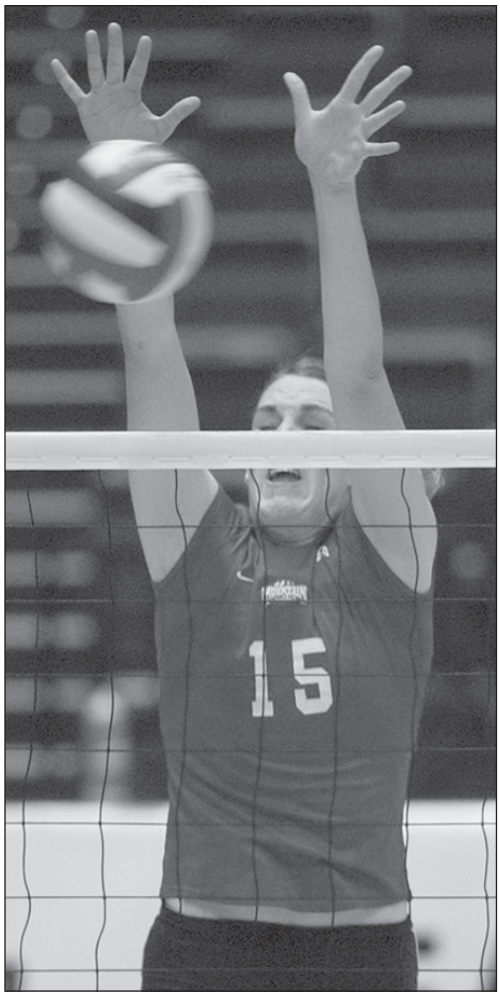
2003 SEASON OUTLOOK

Following a 2002 season that saw Utah reach the NCAA Tournament for the fifth-straight year, win its second-consecutive Mountain West Conference Tournament championship and reach the 20-win plateau for the seventh-successive season, Head Coach Beth Launiere and the 2003 Utes are ready for remarkable things this year.

"I'm as excited for this season as any in a while, mostly because the team committed themselves to this season last January," Launiere says. "I upped my expectations during the off-season and the team met everything. I pushed them as hard in the off-season as any team I've ever had, and I believe they are as ready as can be."

Among the other highlights for the '02 Utes were beating Brigham Young three times in one season (including a three-game sweep in the MWC Tournament championship) for the first time in school history, and defeating Pacific and Arizona, both of which were ranked in the top 15 nationally.



Senior Kim Turner led the league in blocks and ranked second in kills last year en route to being named Co-MWC Player of the Year.

"Looking back, it was an extremely successful season considering how much we had lost (four seniors and one junior) from the 2001 Sweet 16 team," Launiere notes.

Unfortunately, Utah fell short of two major goals last season – winning the regular-season MWC title and repeating the NCAA Tournament success it had enjoyed during the 2001 season. The Utes placed third in the Mountain West and were eliminated in the first round of the NCAA Tournament by Texas A&M.

"We had so many new players, it took a while to get everyone on the same page," Launiere says. "We had times during the season that I felt the individuals on the team needed to learn the work ethic mentality this program is all about. It was a struggle at times, but we figured things out and were able to win a conference championship."

"The returning players toiled all winter and spring and now realize that the harder you work, the harder it is to surrender," Launiere continues. "We are ready for this year."

Utah has been picked to finish first in the MWC Preseason Coaches Poll for the second year in a row.

"Last year we had to learn as a program how to deal with being the frontrunner," Launiere notes. "What we learned is that you keep the same blue collar work ethic regardless of your preseason pick or ranking. Our goal is to work to get better continuously throughout the season."

Leading the Utes this season will be preseason MWC Player of the Year Kim Turner, a three-time all-conference selection and the reigning co-MWC Player of the Year. The senior needs just five block assists and 435 kills to move into first place all-time in both categories at Utah. Turner should get the first record when the Utes open the season at the Arizona State Tournament. Ironically, Turner will be playing in that tournament against four former high school and club teammates from Arizona State.

Adding to the attack is junior Lyndsey Henderson, who averaged 2.28 kills and 1.27 blocks per game in her first season as a Ute last year.

"We have the best middle blocker in the conference in Kim Turner and possibly the best tandem with Kim and Lyndsey," Launiere claims.

Launiere also believes that junior setter Kelsie Kartchner, already a two-year starter, is ready to handle the role of on-court leadership. Kartchner was also a preseason all-conference selection by the MWC coaches.

Meanwhile, senior libero Jackie Morrill, who was named the top libero in last year's MWC Tournament, has a year under her belt at that position.

"Kelsie has established herself as a premier setter, while Jackie is one of the top liberos," Launiere says. "We have four very established, experienced players that have been in the battles many, many times."

Utah also returns four other letterwinners from last year's squad. "While we might not have a lot of depth, we have quality at each position," Launiere notes. "The road to winning a championship might look different than in years past, but that's okay."

The Utes lost two starters – Sylva Strzinková and Brenda Beal – to graduation.

Strzinková, a two-time all-MWC pick, ranked second on the team in both kills (3.78 per game) and digs (2.52 per game).

"Sylva was the glue for us last year and got us out of trouble a lot," Launiere says.

Beal, a four-year letterwinner, averaged 1.20 blocks and 1.39 kills per game last year. "Brenda's work ethic and stability were such a key," notes Launiere. "That said, as one person steps out, another steps up, so I'm not concerned."

Middle Blocker

The Utes ranked seventh in the nation in blocks per game last season, while Turner ranked fifth individually. Turner and Henderson, the team's top two blockers, both return.

"Kim and Lyndsey complement each other very well," Launiere says. "Kim hits in front of the setter, while Lyndsey hits behind. We really have some diversity in what we can do."

The Utes have also added Liana Bortoto, a two-time junior college All-American who transferred from Utah Valley State College. She will see time at both middle and left side.

"Liana brings a lot of experience and is a proven player," Launiere says. "As evidenced by her hitting percentage at UVSC, she's an extremely consistent offensive threat."

Outside Hitter

Sophomore Shelly Sommerfeldt will have the majority of the offensive load at outside hitter, while sophomore Danielle Leichliter will be asked to provide a lot of ball control.

"The outside hitting position is our least experienced position, but I wouldn't consider it a weakness by any stretch," Launiere says. "Shelly has been in the program for two years and is ready to be a significant contributor. I think she'll get better and better as the season goes on.

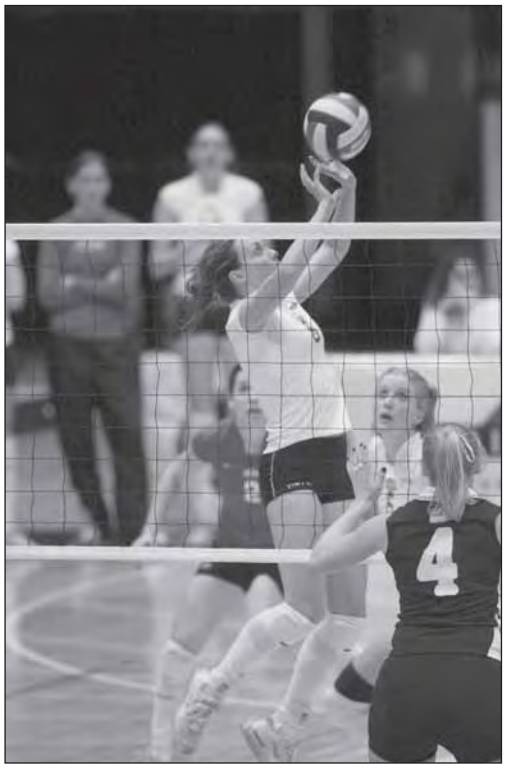
"Danielle has played volleyball her entire life and knows the game well," Launiere adds. "She's one of the best passers on our team."

Opposite

Redshirt freshman Amie Toone, who spent last season learning the Utah system and incoming freshman Carlee Kulovitz will both play a mixture of middle and right side. "The opposites won't be asked to have a huge offensive load because we have lots of weapons," Launiere said. "Instead, they will be asked to block, mix it up and keep some balance in the offense."

Toone (and Leichliter) gained valuable international experience by playing in the Utah-Moscow games in July. "Amie had a great spring, played internationally this summer, and is ready to go," Launiere claims.

Last year as a senior at Durango (Colo.) High School, Kulovitz was named the "Best of the Best" middle blocker in Colorado by the Rocky Mountain News. An all-state selection, she was a first-team all-conference pick and was named her team's MVP. "Carlee is a big block, there's no question about it," Launiere says. "It's a question of learning our system and adjusting to Division I volleyball."



Junior setter Kelsie Kartchner gained valuable experience in the offseason training and competing the the A2 and USA Select teams.

Setter

The setter is one of Utah's most experienced positions. "This is a real strength position for us because of our depth and experience," Launiere said.

Expected to start is junior Kelsie Kartchner, who ranks fifth all-time in assists at the U., after just two seasons. Not only has Kartchner started for the last two years, but she gained additional experience during the summer as one of three setters to play with the A2 team and when she competed with the USA Select Team that played against European national teams.

"Kelsie plays the most volleyball of anyone on our team," Launiere said. "She was a young setter in this program for the last two years and is now ready to be a leader."

Also valuable to the team is junior Tracy Neumeier, who has played on and off throughout her career. "There's no question that Tracy can step in and run this team if needed," Launiere said. "They both really push each other and both of them have benefitted from that."

Launiere has also added Katie Theurer, a transfer from Salt Lake Community College. "Katie is a hard worker that will add positively to team dynamics," she says.

Libero/Defensive Specialist

The veteran Morrill will once again guide the Ute defense. "Jackie has played significantly her entire career here," notes Launiere. "There's no other libero I'd rather have on my team."

In addition, senior co-captain Taryn Horner and freshman Connie Dangerfield will both play a defensive role on the team.

"Taryn is ready for her senior year," Launiere said. "She has trained and practiced a great deal and we will definitely use her.

Schedule

The Utes will once again play tough competition in 2003, facing eight teams that participated in the 2002 NCAA Tournament, including MWC foe Colorado State. Two of those teams – Washington State and Missouri – are ranked in the top 20 in the USA Today/AVCA preseason poll and will visit Crimson Court in the Utes' home-opening tournament.

"Every year we play a nationally-competitive schedule to prepare for the MWC and NCAA Tournaments, and it's no different this year," Launiere says. "That's a philosophy of this program. We've been ranked nationally for several years now, and our goal is to continue to be year in and year out."

BETH LAUNIERE

Head Coach ♦ 14th Season

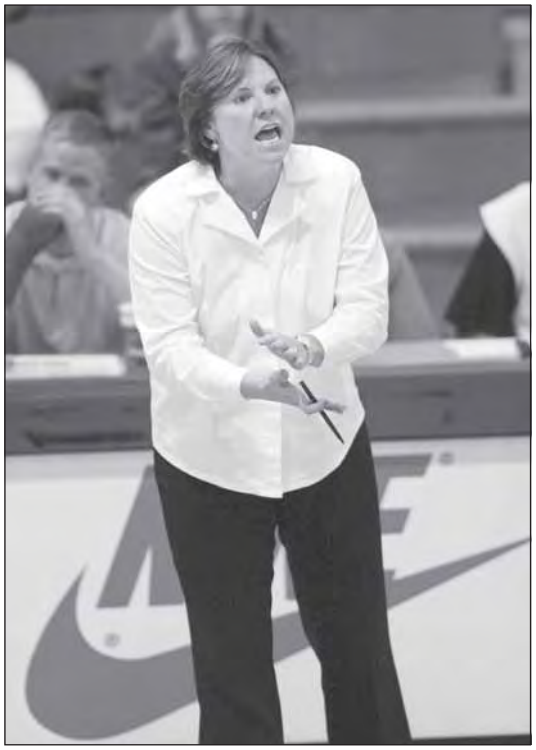
In her 13 years at the helm, Beth Launiere has guided Utah volleyball to unprecedented success.

The winningest coach in school history, Launiere has overseen a significant transformation since her arrival in 1990. In the last 10 years, she has led the Utes to eight 20-win seasons — including seven in a row. Launiere has posted a 253-162 (.610) career record at the U.

Last year, for the first time in school history, the Utes were selected as the preseason favorite to capture the MWC crown. Additionally, the team, which was ranked No. 13 nationally in the preseason poll, climbed as high as No. 8 during the season, the first time Utah had broken into the Top Ten in school history. Though the team finished third in the regular-season MWC standings, Utah breezed through the conference tournament, sweeping Wyoming, San Diego State and Brigham Young to claim its second consecutive conference tournament championship. Led by co-MWC Player of the Year Kim Turner, the Utes then advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the fifth straight year. Playing at No. 1 USC, Utah fell to Texas A&M, 3-0.

Utah finished the season tying a school record for wins with 25. In addition, the Utes set the single season attendance record with 10,784, more than 1,500 above the previous record.

During the 2001 season, Launiere led Utah to its first league tournament title and its maiden trip to the NCAA Sweet 16. As a result, she was named 2001 Tachikara/AVCA Division I West Region Coach of the Year. The Utes (25-7) set the school mark for winning percentage (.781). Utah was a perfect 15-0 at Crimson Court, posting the first undefeated home season in school history.



Utah received its fourth-straight NCAA Tournament berth; but this time, the road to the Sweet 16 went through Salt Lake City. The Utes, seeded No. 14 nationally, defeated Texas Tech in three games (30-24, 31-29, 30-23) in the first round and knocked off Utah State in four games (30-21, 30-18, 26-30, 30-22) to get their first-ever second round win. The Utes eventually lost in the regional semifinals in four games to Stanford, the eventual national champion. Utah was the only team in the NCAA Tournament to take a game from the Cardinal. The Utes finished the season ranked No. 15 in the nation.

The 2000 Utes finished 23-8 and the .742 overall winning percentage was the second-best in school history. The squad was the only team in school history to beat a No. 1 ranked opponent with a come-from-behind five-game victory over Stanford at Crimson Court. With the win over Stanford and two more wins the next weekend, Utah earned its first-ever national ranking. The Utes came in at No. 18 in the USA Today/AVCA Top 25 poll released on Sept. 11. Launiere recorded her 200th career victory at the MWC Tournament with a four-game win over UNLV on Nov. 16. The team, which was ranked No. 20 in the final poll, defeated Colorado in the first round of the NCAAs, then fell to Hawaii in round two.

The Utes went for 20 wins in 1999, going 22-10 overall and 10-4 in the debut season of the Mountain West Conference. Utah advanced to the second round of the NCAAs for the second consecutive year.

In many ways, 1998 was an important milestone in Launiere's tenure on The Hill. The Utes made it to the second round in their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. Launiere was later honored with the U.'s Don Reddish Coach of the Year award. Utah posted a 21-10 record against a schedule featuring nine teams that made the NCAA Tournament.

In 1997, Launiere's Utes put up the fourth-best winning percentage in school history (.710) by going 22-9. In a season full of highlights, the Utes tied the longest winning streak in the school annals with 11 wins from Sept. 6 through Oct. 2. Utah also equaled its best start to the WAC season, winning its first three matches and going 5-2 through the first half of the league schedule.

Launiere surpassed the 100-career victory plateau in 1996 with a three-game win over Utah State on Sept. 20. The Utes went 20-12 overall on the season and amassed the most wins ever as a WAC member with a 10-6 record to place third in the Mountain Division.

The '95 Utes placed fourth in the WAC with a 7-7 mark. Included in a 3-0 start to the conference season was a shutout of No. 16 Brigham Young, which marked Utah's first defeat of a nationally ranked opponent in a decade.

To fully appreciate what Launiere has accomplished, one must reflect on where she began. The season prior to Launiere's arrival, Utah compiled a 1-32 record. In her first season, Launiere coached the Utes to six more wins than were recorded the previous year, and instilled a new competitive attitude in the program. The instantaneous improvement enabled Launiere to elevate the level of play and bring excitement and fan support back to Utah volleyball.

In Launiere's second season, Utah more than doubled its win total again, going 15-20. In her third season, she won 18 games — the first winning season in seven years — and opened the door to many of the milestones that have since been reached.

The 1993 Utes produced a very successful campaign, going 25-11 and placing fourth in the WAC. Utah also earned its first postseason berth, placing third in the NIVC. Both the Utes as a team, and senior Mikki Kane-Barton, led the nation in blocks — a first for any WAC team.

In 1994, Launiere won her 81st career match at Utah and became the winningest coach in school history. The Utes were invited to participate in the NIVC for a second-consecutive year, but declined the invitation.

The majority of the biggest names in Utah volleyball have played for Launiere. Brenda Barton-Whicker (1994-97) was the first player in school history to be named an American Volleyball Coaches Association District VII All-American in '95. She finished her career as Utah's all-time leader in kills, attempts, digs and service aces. Graciela Torres-Lopez (1996-99) took over as the Utes' all-time leader in career assists at the end of the 1998 season. Sara Shakula (1995-98) is second all-time in kills.

Former Utah assistant coach Linda Byington (1990-91) is second all-time in hitting efficiency. Kane-Barton (1992-93) is fourth all-time in blocks at the U., while Katie Tagge (1993-95), ranks third on the all-time assists chart.

McKelle Stilson (1998-01) finished her career third all-time in hitting efficiency, first in block assists, first in total blocks and third in kills. Launiere's latest prodigy, senior Kim Turner, enters the season first in hitting efficiency and total blocks, second in block assists, fifth in kills and seventh in block solos.

Launiere gained coaching experience on the international level in the summer of 1996, taking the USA All-Star Team on a two week tour of England. The team, consisting of 14-17 year-old girls, was sponsored by the USA Volleyball Youth Developmental Program. Launiere has also been a member of the AVCA All-America Committee.

Prior to coming to Utah, the Grand Rapids, Mich., native spent two successful seasons (1988-89) as an assistant coach at the University of Illinois. The Fightin' Illini went to two NCAA Tournaments, advanced to the 1988 Final Four and posted a 57-12 record during Launiere's stay.

As an assistant at Ferris State (Mich.) from 1985-87, Launiere helped guide the Bulldogs to three postseason appearances and a berth in the 1987 NCAA Division II Final Four.

Launiere is a 1985 graduate of Aquinas College (Mich.), where she earned a bachelor's degree in business administration and economics. She also has a master's in sports administration from Illinois.

The 40-year-old Launiere is the fifth coach in the 28-year history of Utah volleyball and has a tenure longer than any of her predecessors.

MATT MCSHANE

Assistant Coach ♦ 3rd Season

First assistant Matt McShane, in his third season at Utah, has an extensive coaching and playing background and has thus established an impressive reputation in the volleyball arena. He is the primary on-court trainer, the reruiting coordinator, and performs video and statistical analysis.

Before joining the Utes, McShane was an associate head coach at New Mexico from 1987-2000. In 11 successful years in Albuquerque, he helped guide the Lobos to a 189-127 record, an 81-63 conference mark, two conference championships and six trips to the NCAA Tournament.

During the summer of '02, McShane served as the head coach for the USA National A2 Team, while in the summer of 2001, he was the head coach for the Intermountain Volleyball Association (IVA) High Performance Team that toured Europe.

In 1996, McShane was named an assistant coach of the USA Women's National Team at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo. While with the U.S. National team, McShane designed and ran practice sessions, did video analysis of the U.S. team and the major teams in the world, and prepared scouting reports on U.S. opponents.

McShane's coaching background also includes assisting Chinese national "Jenny" Lang Ping with the Yaohan International Volleyball Team in 1996. The team was comprised of the best American and Russian players who competed against the Chinese and Cuban National teams in cities throughout China.

McShane is a member of the USAV Coaches Accreditation Program Cadre (CAP Level III). Each year he does numerous clinics throughout the U.S., teaching other college, high school and junior coaches the fundamentals of volleyball.

As an undergraduate at UC Santa Barbara, McShane played on the only intercollegiate team to win the USAV Open National Championship. The UCSB teams finished second in the NCAA Championships in 1974 and '75, and finished third in the NCAA Regional Championships in 1976. He was an All-American for the Gauchos in 1974 .

McShane earned his B.A. from UCSB in 1974 and his master's degree from BYU in 1982. While at BYU, he played on the men's club team that finished third at USAV Open National Championship in 1981.

JASON SMITH

Assistant Coach ♦ 1st Season

Former Avila College (Mo.) head coach Jason Smith enters his first year as an assistant coach with the Utes after serving the past two seasons as an assistant at Ferris State University (Mich.). He is responsible for the organization of Utah's recruiting program, video and statistical organization and team travel.

In Smith's first season at Ferris State, the Bulldogs compiled a 21-11 overall record and placed second in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. During the 2002 campaign, Ferris State posted a 24-7 overall mark, the program's fifth consecutive 20-win season. The Bulldogs also claimed their 11th NCAA Division II Tournament bid.

Prior to his work at Ferris State, Smith served as an assistant coach at Iowa Western Community College. During the 2000 season, he helped guide the Revivers to a 41-7 mark and a 10th-place finish at the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) National Tournament. He had spent the three previous years as the director of telecommunications at Transamerica Life Insurance Company in Kansas City, Mo.

Prior to his corporate position, Smith spent two years as the head coach and two seasons as an assistant at Avila. During that stint, his teams were nationally ranked in both passing and defensive statistics. In 1994, as an assistant, the Eagles won a conference championship and earned a berth in the regional playoffs. That squad was also the nation's top-ranked passing team.

The 33-year-old Smith got his collegiate coaching start as an assistant at Avila during the 1993 campaign, when the Eagles advanced to the district playoffs.

Smith played collegiate volleyball for four years at Graceland College in Lamoni, Iowa, where he was a member of three regional championship teams and was a three-time all-region pick. During his final season in '92, he was the team team captain as well as MVP.

Smith, who earned a bachelor's degree in business and economics from Graceland in 1992, has served as a volunteer statistician for the United States men's national team.

BETH ODAHLEN

Volunteer Assistant ♦ 1st Season

Beth Odahlen, who worked as a sports psychology consultant with the team in the off-season, begins her first year as a volunteer assistant coach.

Odahlen has been an instructor in Utah's exercise and sport science department since August 2001, teaching physical activity classes. During that time, she has also served as a teaching assistant.

Odahlen recently received her master's degree in exercise and sport science with an emphasis in sport psychology and sociology from the U.

Odahlen earned a bachelor's degree in psychology from North Dakota in 2001, graduating cum laude. She was an outside hitter on the volleyball team at the University of Minnesota-Morris from 1996-97.

Strength & Conditioning

The Ute volleyball team benefits from a certified strength and conditioning program. They train in the Dee Glen Smith Center's 7,500-square foot, glass enclosed strength and conditioning facility, using programs designed by director of strength and conditioning Jason Veltkamp, MS CSCS.

Veltkamp, in his fifth year on the Ute staff, is the Utah state director of the National Strength and Conditioning Association, a certified club coach by USA Weightlifting and an NSCA certified specialist.

Veltkamp oversees a staff of five. Full-time assistants are Matt Balis and Jon Webster. Kurt Schmidt is a graduate assistant, Jason Bell a volunteer assistant and Jon Rowbothum an intern.

Balis manages the daily strength and conditioning care for the Utah volleyball team. He is a 1996 graduate of Northern Illinois, where he earned a bachelor's degree in physical education, K-12. He earned a master's degree in educational administration from Aurora (Ill.) University in 2001.

Sports Medicine/Nutrition

Utah volleyball enjoys a partnership with a veteran sports medicine team, headed by orthopedic surgeon Dr. Bob Burks and family practitioner Dr. Liz Joy.

Burks, the head team physician for the University of Utah athletics department, has been its orthopedic surgeon since 1998. He also directs the University of Utah Sports Medicine Center at Red Butte Clinic and is an associate professor of orthopedic surgery at the U.

Dr. Joy, a former collegiate athlete herself (she lettered in volleyball and track at Minnesota), is in her seventh year as Utah's team physician. She also practices family and sports medicine at the University of Utah Family Health Center. Joy is chairperson of the American Medical Society for Sports Medicine.

The Utes also utilize a nationally recognized sport psychologist. Dr. Keith Henschen, a professor in Utah's College of Health, in his 25th year with the Utah athletics department. His other experience includes chairing the USGF Sport Psychology Committee and working at the Olympic level with two other national governing bodies.

The Utes' nutritional care is under the charge of sports nutrition consultant Claudia Wilson, now in her sixth year with the volleyball team. Wilson, MS, RD, who is also a clinical dietician for the University of Utah Nutrition Clinic, specializes in sports nutrition, female athlete triad disorders and eating disorders. She is a member of the American Dietetics Association and Sports and Cardiovascular and Wellness Nutritionists (SCAN), an ADA practice group.

The daily physical care of the Utes is handled by the sports medicine staff. Abby Bennion is in her second year at Utah as a graduate assistant volleyball trainer. She earned her bachelor's degree in exercise and sports science from the U. in 1999. Bennion is currently working towards her master's in ESS with an emphasis in exercise physiology.

The entire sports medicine staff is overseen by director Bill Bean and associate director Deb Willardson. They both have more than 25 years of experience at the University of Utah. The three other full-time assistants on staff in the sports medicine department are Tom Iriye, Trevor Jameson and Bob Toth.

Academics/Career Counseling

Mary Bowman, an assistant athletics director and Utah's director of student-athlete support services, oversees academic advising, career counseling and the NCAA LifeSkills program. The academic advising staff includes Chris Reilly, director of academic services; Rob Rainey, assistant director; and JoAnn Hulbert-Eagan, academic advisor/learning specialist. The staff operates from the 10,000 square foot Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center, which is designated solely for Utah's varsity student-athletes.

Rainey, in his 11th year at Utah, is the advisor for the Ute women's volleyball team. He holds master's degrees in elementary education from Wilkes (1988) and counselor education from Penn State (1990).

Manny Hendrix, a former starter for the Dallas Cowboys, is in his ninth year as Utah's director of athletic relations. Hendrix, who played basketball at the U. as an undergraduate, now assists student-athletes in career planning. He also runs the Partnering with U. program, which provides internships and summer jobs.

Athletics Director/Special Assistant to the President

Dr. Chris Hill, Utah's director of athletics and special assistant to the president of the University of Utah, has carried Utah athletics into national prominence. Hill was just 37 years old when he was named director of athletics back in October of 1987.

His vision reaches beyond the athletics department. Since 1998, he has been the special assistant to U. president Dr. Bernie Machen and a member of the University's senior administrative cabinet. On a national level, Hill was the NCAA-appointed chairman of the powerful Championships/Competition Cabinet from 1997-98. He now serves as the Mountain West Conference representative on the NCAA Management Council and is on the Management Council's administrative committee. In 2002-03, he was elected to the executive committee of the National Association of Collegiate Athletics Directors (NACDA).

But his biggest strides have come on campus, where his tenure has been charged with capital improvements, an emphasis on student-athlete support, academics, and winning programs. In the March 18 issue of U.S.News & World Report, Utah was ranked among the top 20 athletics programs in the nation, based on winning percentage, graduation rate, number of sports and gender equity.

Hill is the driving force behind Utah's athletics success and its numerous national-caliber facilities. His fund-raising efforts reached an international stage when beautiful $50 million Rice-Eccles Stadium hosted the Opening and Closing Ceremonies for the 2002 Salt Lake Olympic Winter Games. Also close to Hill's heart is the new Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center. (See inset for a complete list of facilities built during his term).

On the playing field, Utah is a conference and national power under Hill's leadership. One of the many highlights was the men's basketball team making the 1998 NCAA Final Four and playing Kentucky in the championship game. Utah has also captured multiple national championships in gymnastics and skiing (most recently in 2003) since he became director of athletics and the football team has appeared in six bowl games.

Hill positioned himself for the top athletics job after two highly successful years as the director of development for the Crimson Club. The New Jersey native first came to the U. as a graduate assistant basketball coach (1973-74) under Bill Foster. He was an assistant under Jerry Pimm from 1979-81.

Between his coaching and administrative stints with Utah athletics, Hill was executive director of United Cerebral Palsy of Utah (1981-85), where he raised $750,000 in federal, state and private funding for a housing project for people with severe physical disabilities.

Among his many awards are a 1981 Milton Bennion Fellowship, 1984 Utah Recreation Therapy Association Outstanding Service award and 1996 Utah MS Sportsperson of the Year award. He was a 1998 inductee into the Jersey Shore Hall of Fame. Hill currently serves on the Regence BlueCross BlueShield Board of Directors. In 2001, the National Consortium for Academics and Sports gave him its Degree Completion and Outreach and Community Service Honor Award.

As an undergraduate, Hill lettered three years and was co-captain of the 1971-72 Rutgers basketball team. His bachelor's degree from Rutgers is in math education (1972). He also has a master's in education (Utah, 1974), and a Ph.D. in educational administration (Utah, 1982). Hill taught in the University's special education department from 1983-85. He coached boys basketball at Granger High (Utah) from 1975-79, winning 4A coach of the year his first year.

Hill, 53, is married to the former Kathy Cronin, a member of the faculty in the department of special education at the U. They have two adult children: Aly and Christopher.

My craziest ambitions:
To travel to every country in the world and to swim with the dolphins

Favorite sports team:
Arizona Diamondbacks

Television show I'd like to make a cameo on:
Whose Line is it Anyway?

Most embarrassing moment:
When weightlifting last year, I was doing front squats and they kept telling me to go lower. As I did, I ripped the back seam of my shorts. It made a ripping noise and the strength coach thought I did something else!

When I played sports as a kid, I pretended to be:
Kim Zmeskal

The most impressive person I've ever met:
My grandpa

My motto is:
Work hard and have fun

Three words that describe me on the court:
Competitive, determined, loose

Three words that describe me off the court:
Clumsy, fun-loving, kind

I started playing volleyball at:
Age 14, Hendrix Huskies

Most memorable match:
2001 MWC Championship match against CSU

Favorite moment in a match:
Game point in a close game and winning it with a kill or block

If I could change one thing about volleyball, it would be:
It would have more fans and be the No. 1 sport at all universities

Utes win second consecutive MWC Tournament, make NCAA Tournament for fifth season in a row

The 2002 season was bittersweet for the Ute volleyball team. Utah put together an extremely successful season, finishing 25-9 and tying the school record for wins in a season. Other notable accomplishments included reaching the NCAA Tournament for the fifth-straight year, winning its second-consecutive Mountain West Conference Tournament championship and hitting the 20-win plateau for the seventh-successive season.

In addition, for the first time in school history, the Utes beat in-state rival Brigham Young three times during the season (including a three-game sweep in the MWC Tournament championship). Utah also defeated Pacific and Arizona, both of which were ranked in the top 15 nationally.

Unfortunately, however, the Utes failed to attain two major goals – winning the regular-season conference crown and continuing the success attained at the 2001 NCAA Tournament, when the team advanced to the Sweet 16. Utah placed third in the regular-season standings and was eliminated by Texas A&M in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, its first-ever first round elimination.

Utah began the season with a No. 13 ranking in the USA Today/AVCA poll. The Utes were also picked to win the Mountain West Conference for the first time in school history. The team was ranked throughout the season, climbimg as high as No. 8 in the poll – its highest ranking ever. It wasn't until the final poll, released at the conclusion of the season and Utah's NCAA Tournament loss, that the Utes fell out.

Utah tied the school record for wins last season and led the MWC in blocks per game.

As a team, Utah led the MWC in hitting defense and blocks per game, ranked second in assists and service aces per game, third in kills per game, and fourth in both digs per game and hitting percentage. Individually, junior Kim Turner was the conference leader in blocks and ranked second in kills, seventh in service aces and ninth in hitting percentage. Several other Utes ranked in the top 10 in various statistics.

Turner was named Co-MWC Player of the Year and was a first-team all-region pick, while senior captain Sylva Strzinková was named all-conference. Utah racked up the honors at the MWC Tournament, where the team swept through all three opponents en route to the title. Turner was named MVP of the tournament for the second straight year, while Strzinková was named to the all-tournament team, junior Jackie Morrill was named the top libero and sophomore Kelsie Kartchner was the top setter.

As a team, the Utes set records for block assists and total blocks in a three-game match with 33 and 22.5, respectively, against San Jose State on Sept. 7. Utah also tied the record for service aces in a four-game match with 14 against New Mexico on Nov. 2, 2002. Individually, Turner set the total blocks record in a three-game match with 13 against San Jose State.

Several Utes finished the season ranked in the top 10 in various season statistical categories. Turner was second in block assists (169), third in total blocks (195), sixth in kills (461) and 10th in hitting percentage (.294). Kartchner ranked third in service aces with 50 and seventh in assists with 1,281. Morrill ranked tied for seventh in digs with 376.

After ranking as one of the top leagues in the nation in its first four years, the Mountain West Conference begins its fifth year of competition with aspirations for continued success on the national level. The MWC has sent at least two teams (three in 1999 and 2000) to the NCAA Tournament in each of its four seasons, and sent a record four teams to the 2001 NCAA Tournament. It was also one of just five conferences to have multiple teams in the Sweet 16 three straight years (1999-2001).

A total of eight teams have been ranked in the final USA Today Top 25 poll the past four years, and after producing 11 All-Americans in four seasons, the MWC will look to build on its volleyball tradition in 2003.

The Mountain West ranked sixth in the nation for volleyball attendance from 1999-2001, and ranked seventh last year. The league's teams have also been tough to handle on their home courts. The past four years, Colorado State is 63-6 (.913) at Moby Arena, while the Utah is 47-8 (.855) at home, including a 39-4 mark the past three seasons. BYU has made it difficult for the opposition at Smith Fieldhouse, posting a 45-17 (.726) record the past fours years.

The Mountain West Conference was conceived on May 26, 1998, when the presidents of eight institutions — Air Force, Brigham Young, Colorado State, New Mexico, San Diego State, UNLV, Utah and Wyoming — met in Denver and decided to form the MWC.

The cornerstone of the conference's formation was the maintenance of long standing athletic rivalries among its member institutions. Hence the Mountain West Conference was formed. Located in Colorado Springs, Colo., when the MWC's doors opened for business the new league had in place a seven-year contract with ESPN giving the broadcaster exclusive national television rights to MWC football and men's basketball; and three-year agreements to send the league's football champion to the Liberty Bowl and a second team to the Las Vegas Bowl.

The Conference officially began operations on July 1, 1999. Prior to opening it doors an executive committee was established and named Craig Thompson commissioner. Thompson had less than one-year to name the new league, settle on a city to serve as the league's headquarters, find a television partner, arrange for bowl tie-ins, hire staff, and develop a logo.

The Mountain West Conference is noted for its geographic diversity. Some of the most beautiful geography in the nation can be found within Mountain West Conference boundaries, including the unparalleled Rocky Mountain range, which borders four MWC schools (Utah, BYU, Air Force and Colorado State). The high plains of Wyoming (elevation 7,000 feet) contrast with the desert city of Las Vegas (the fastest growing metropolitan area in the West), the balmy weather and Pacific Ocean locale of San Diego State and the southwestern flavor of New Mexico.

Highlights through the MWC's first four years include three women's cross country national championships; participation in 12 bowl games; sending six of the eight teams to postseason bowls; the only conference each of the last two seasons to send 75 percent of its men's basketball teams to postseason play; 11 berths in the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament, including three "Sweet 16" appearances; sending five of eight men's golf teams to NCAAs each of the last four years; 11 NCAA Volleyball berths with two teams advancing to the "Sweet 16" three of the last four years; and being the only conference with multiple bowl games to go unbeaten in the 2000 postseason - posting a 3-0 mark.

In addition to the 19 MWC-sponsored sports, programs like Utah and BYU have national titles in non-league sports. The Utes have won a total of 21 national championships in the sports of women's gymnastics and skiing, while BYU captured the 2001 and 1998 NCAA men's volleyball championship.

NIVC Semifinalists/Steve Lowe Award 1993

On its way to placing third at the 1993 National Invitational Volleyball Championship, Utah earned the Steve Lowe Award, embodying competitive excellence, inspiration and fair play. The award is named in honor of the former head coach at Wisconsin, who guided the Badgers to the championship of the inaugural NIVC Tournament in 1989 and died of cancer in 1991.

In addition to playing at Crimson Court, the Utah volleyball team enjoys the finest strength, rehabilitation and training equipment available in the Dee Glen Smith Athletics Center.

Strength and conditioning room at the Dee Glen Smith Center

One of the finest volleyball-only facilities in the nation, Crimson Court provides a great home court environment for Utah volleyball. It replaced the old home of the Ute volleyball team after the 1993 team set a school record for wins in a season with 25.

While occupying the same location in HPER East-101, Crimson Court is a completely rebuilt, renovated facility that has helped take Ute volleyball to the next level. The $165,000 renovation project expanded the seating from 600 to 1,500 with telescopic plate seats around the entire court.

To utilize the full facility, the court was rotated 90 degrees and centered within the gymnasium. A new sound system was also installed and the floor was refinished with new graphics.

The court was officially dedicated on Sept. 9, 1994. It was christened by both a win over Montana State and a marathon five-game victory over San Jose State in the Utah Classic. In its nine years at Crimson Court, Utah has recorded a 92-27 record and a .773 winning percentage.

The largest crowd ever recorded at Crimson Court assembled on Nov. 14, 1997, when 1,573 fans watched Utah battle in-state rival Brigham Young. During the 2001 season, Utah set the single-season attendance record when 12,020 fans watched the Utes over the course of 15 games for an average of 801 fans per game.

Crimson Court is considered one of the finest facilities in the Mountain West Conference — a league that has quickly earned a reputation as one of the strongest in the country. It is home to a Ute team that has made the NCAA Tournament each of the last five years.

UTAH AND THE NCAA TOURNAMENT

Over the past five seasons, the Utah volleyball program has developed a rich history of success in the postseason. The team has participated in the NCAA Tournament during each of the last five years, and the 2001 team concluded the season with a loss in the Sweet 16 to eventual national champion Stanford.

The Utes qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 1998, receiving an at-large bid as the eighth seed in the Pacific Region. Utah defeated ninth-seeded Illinois State in three games in the first round, then lost to top-seeded Nebraska in four games in the second round.

In 1999, Utah, seeded No. 9 in the Mountain Region, defeated eighth seeded Colorado in three games in the first round and lost to top-seeded Hawaii in three games in the second round.

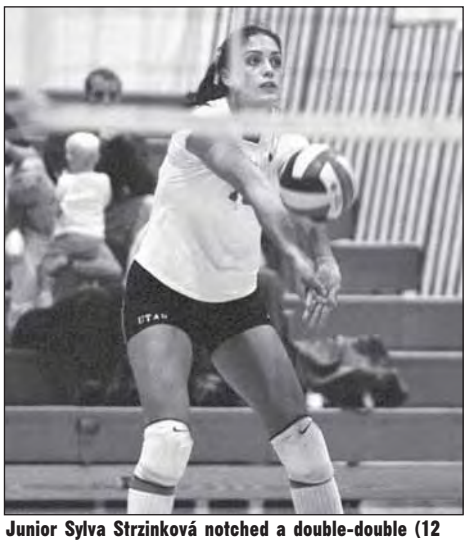
The following year, in 2000, the Utes were the No. 8 seed in the West Region and defeated Texas Tech, 3-2 in the first round the tourney. The team then lost to Hawaii, 3-0, in the second round.

The team's Sweet 16 appearance in 2001 was the first time in Utah volleyball history that a team had advanced to regionals.

Last year, after an impressive four-game win over then-No. 12 Arizona to conclude the regular season, the Utes were somewhat disappointed when placed in the same region for the NCAA Tournament with USC, the No. 1 team in the nation. Utah ended up losing to Texas A&M in the first round.

Despite the disappointment of last year's first-round elimination, Launiere has plans to make another appearance in 2003.

"Every year we play a nationally-competitive schedule to prepare for the NCAA Tournament," she says. "We've been to the NCAA Tournament for several years in a row now, and our goal is to continue to go year in and year out."



Junior Sylva Strzinková notched a double-double (12 kills, 13 digs) in Utah's Sweet 16 loss to Stanford in 2001.

In 2001, Utah defeated Texas Tech and Utah State at Grimson Court in the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament to secure its first-ever Sweet 16 appearance.

QUOTING LAUNIERE OVER THE YEARS

Here's what Head Coach Beth Launiere has had to say about her team making the NCAA Tournament over the past five years:

1998 - "I'm really excited. It's just a great feeling -- something you work so hard for throughout the whole year. I'm pleased for the program and the players who came before this group. There have been a lot of people who worked a lot of hard hours to get us to this point."

1999 - "I'm so happy for our team because we really exceeded our expectations. We've gotten really good leadership from our captains and this is a group of kids with great attitudes. It seemed like every match somebody different stepped up."

2000 - "It's funny how things have changed for our program. We used to be happy just to get a bid to the tournament and now we're playing for the seed. We felt like we put ourselves in the position to have a better seed than we got. I'm really surprised especially since we've done so well in the tournament the last two years."

2001 - "I'm really excited for our program. Hosting the NCAAs will give us a better chance of making it to the Sweet 16. We've never hosted before in the history of Utah volleyball and it's going to be great."

On making it to the Sweet 16 - "We had the weekend to enjoy this and it is a feeling of accomplishment and enjoyment. It is a tribute to this year's team. They improved a lot over the course of the season and it is because of their hard work and determination. It is a great step for our program and solidifies Utah as a nationally-competitive program."

2002 - "We are happy to be in the NCAA Tournament. There are a lot of teams that aren't. USC is close enough for family and friends to go, so hopefully we'll get some fan support, which is really important in the NCAAs."

During the summer of 2002, several Ute volleyball players and Head Coach Beth Launiere participated in various United States training and international volleyball competitions.

Senior Kim Turner and juniors Kelsie Kartchner and Lyndsey Henderson were among 19 athletes nationwide to take part in the USA Volleyball A2 training program in Lake Placid, N.Y. The purpose of the team is to provide prospective national team athletes with opportunities to prepare for future participation. By bringing in collegiate athletes during the summer months, it allows the players to experience a high level of training and competition at the Olympic Training Center and it further helps the high performance directors and the national team coaches identify which players have what it takes to get to the next level – international play.

In May, Kartchner and Head Coach Beth Launiere spent 11 days in Brno, Czech Republic, as part of the USA Select Team. Sanctioned by USA Volleyball, the USA Select Team is comprised of top collegiate players, including many women that are considered part of the USA Volleyball "pipeline" of potential National Team athletes. Among the competition were nine European National Teams including Czech Republic, Slovakia, Slovenia, Romania, Estonia, Turkey, Denmark, and Sweden.

Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Athletics Academic Center

The student in "student-athlete" got a big boost in March of 2001, when the stunning new Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center opened on the U. campus. Designed solely to serve the U.'s varsity student-athletes, the Burbidge Center is without peer in terms of aesthetics, technology and academic service.

The 10,000 square foot facility is already a campus landmark, with its sweeping floor to ceiling, curved glass wall on the two-story north side. Its location is ideal for the population it serves: Situated between the U. Natatorium and the Huntsman Center, the Burbidge Center is central to Utah's classrooms and athletic venues.

The full-service academic facility, utilized by all 19 varsity Utah athletic teams, was underwritten by a generous $2 million gift from the Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. family. The center consolidated Utah's athletic-academic efforts, both in terms of computer labs and study space, and academic counseling. The upper level also provides a social gathering place for the student-athletes.

The mission of the Burbidge Family Athletics Academic Center is to provide an integrated learning environment that will enhance the academic and personal development of all student-athletes. The objective is to accommodate the diverse needs and schedules of Utah's student-athletes through a wide range of individual and group support services, computer technologies and independent study opportunities.

BURBIDGE CENTER FACTS

- 10,000 square feet of space

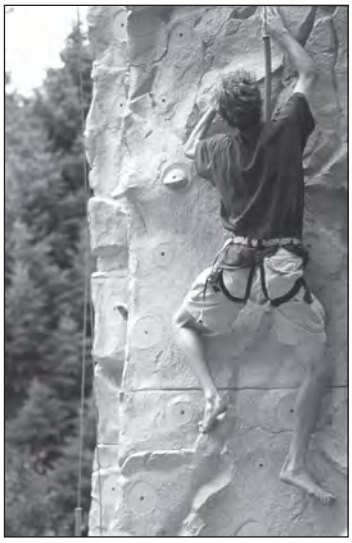
Heritage Commons Residence Halls

There's a new style of living at the University of Utah, which became a true residential campus in the fall of 2000 when students moved into the beautiful new Heritage Commons. The living-learning community is the heart of campus activity and exudes a vibrant, energetic "college town" atmosphere.

Situated in historic Fort Douglas at the mouth of Red Butte Canyon, and located on 70 acres of land, the expansive 912,000 square foot residential complex boasts incredible views of Salt Lake City and the surrounding mountain ranges.

Heritage Commons received worldwide acclaim in 2001 when it served as the Athletes Village during the XIX Olympic Winter and Paralympic Games, hosted by Salt Lake City. Some 3,500 athletes and officials called Heritage Commons home during that time. After the Games, Heritage Commons reverted to its intended role as a student residential center.



Heritage Commons consists of 21 buildings – 20 residential and one for dining and support services. Eight of the buildings are apartment style, with 235 one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments. The residence halls are spread out over 12 buildings and have a total of 1,515 beds. A maximum of four students share a bathroom and each bedroom has independent heating and air conditioning units.

First-year students live in Gateway Heights, a hall with furnished, double semi-suites, an advanced telecommunications system (voice, video and data), an ethernet connection to the U. student computer system, cable TV connections, a large community lounge, study rooms and indoor bike storage. Each floor has a kitchenette.

Chapel Glen is home to both first year students and upperclassmen and offers the same amenities as Gateway Heights, as well as a fitness area. Sage Point is reserved for upper division students and has single, double and deluxe suites. Sage Point also has computer and technology labs and an international area. The U.T.E. Program is housed in Chapel Glen and Sage Point. An acronym for Undergraduate Tradition of Excellence Program, its goal is to broaden students' appreciation for tolerating various lifestyles, cultures, attitudes and values.

Benchmark Plaza is an apartment complex allocated for single students who have earned 60-plus credit hours. Shoreline Ridge, which offers both furnished and unfurnished apartment units, is reserved for students with families and single graduate students.

The Chase N. Peterson Heritage Center, open 24 hours a day, seven days a week during peak demand periods, is the hub of activity in the student-housing village. It contains a central dining facility that seats 600, a convenience store, computer and technology labs, fitness and game rooms, four multipurpose rooms, a mail center and more.

Alongside the residence halls and apartments is a University Bookstore branch, University Copy Center and the University Guest House (an on-campus hotel).

Transportation is another benefit of Heritage Commons. A valid U of U parking permit allows residents to park close to their hall. Free shuttles run five routes every 10 minutes and the Utah Transit Authority and light rail (TRAX) combine to traverse 21 routes to and from campus. The residence halls are also easily accessible to main campus by foot and are connected via the state-of-the-art George S. Eccles 2002 Legacy Bridge.

The University of Utah, a hub for higher education from the Rockies to the Sierras, boasts an academic reputation that is rivaled only by its breathtaking location. To the east rise the 11,500 foot, snow-capped peaks of the Wasatch Mountains. To the west the Great Salt Lake shimmers beneath the Oquirrh Mountains. The 1,500-acre campus, nestled in the foothills of the Wasatch Mountains, is a beautiful collage of native and exotic trees, fountains, flowering malls and pedestrian walkways.

The U. offers a lively residential living experience in beautiful new Heritage Commons, a multi-purpose residence complex housing 2,500 students and located in historic Fort Douglas on the eastern edge of campus. Opened in 2000, Heritage Commons served as the Athletes Village for the 2002 Olympic Winter Games.

Outside of school, Utah students enjoy unparalleled outdoor diversions, from skiing and snowboarding at any of eight world-class resorts in nearby canyons, to backpacking, mountain biking, fly fishing and river running.

The U.'s location in the largest city in the Intermountain West (population 1,333,914) also provides a metropolitan charm. The 36th largest metro area in the nation, Salt Lake is home to professional symphony, ballet, modern dance, opera and theater companies, as well as the NBA's Utah Jazz, Triple A baseball's Salt Lake Stingers and the AHL's Utah Grizzlies.

The University, which offers more than 100 undergraduate degree programs and 93 graduate majors, draws its 28,000-plus student population from all 50 states and 100 foreign countries. Ninety-five percent of Utah's faculty members hold the highest degree in their fields.

Founded in 1850, the U. has established itself as an international center for medical and engineering research. It manages one of the three most successful technology parks in the U.S., with more than 40 high-tech companies created by University faculty. The Huntsman Cancer Institute and the Howard Hughes Medical Institute make Utah the primary research company in the nation for understanding the genetic basis of cancer. In the 2002 National Science Foundation report, Utah was ranked 46th among research universities receiving federal grants. The U. is listed 19th nationally in corporate funding for research. The University is a leader in technology transfer and frequently ranks first in the nation in number of inventions per million dollars expended for research. Inventions include a wearable kidney, robotic technology and the Utah artificial arm.

Utah is also a hub in the computer world. The Center for High Performance Computing links the U. to major aerospace industries, high-tech manufacturers and research companies. The Department of Computer Science is ranked in the top 20 computer science research departments in the nation. The U. was named one of five finalists in the science category of the 1998 Computerworld Smithsonian Awards. Back in 1970, the U. became the fourth node on the Internet.

The annual issue of U.S.News & World Report ranked Utah as one of 78 second tier Universities in 2002, which places the U. somewhere between 52-130 among American colleges (rankings outside the top 50 are listed alphabetically). Only six schools in the Mountain West region made Tier 2: Utah, Arizona, Colorado, Colorado State, Denver and Brigham Young. According to the U.S. News data, Utah's 3.2 rating would place it No. 24 among all public institutions and No. 8 among its second-tier peers.

U.S.News & World Report was also impressed with Utah's athletic department, placing the U. on its Honor Roll of College Sports along with 19 other schools in 2002. Utah was one of just three schools west of the Mississippi that made the list.

The University of Utah, one of the state's largest employers, has the only medical, social work, architecture and pharmacy schools in a multi-state area. Its many top-flight facilities include a center for dance, a health sciences center, public radio and television stations, three libraries and numerous centers and laboratories devoted to research.

The U. provides a lot of fun, too. Over a million people enjoy the University of Utah's athletic, entertainment and cultural offerings each year. And Utah is known as a site of championships in the athletic arena, having served as host to a number of national tournaments, including the 1979 NCAA Basketball Final Four, eight National Women's Gymnastics Championships, three NCAA Ski Championships and two National Women's Tennis Championships.

Surrounded by awe-inspiring geographical landmarks, Salt Lake City offers majestic views in all directions

Salt Lake City, home to the University of Utah, is one of the most beautiful and vibrant cities in America. Its location between two magnificent mountain ranges and a booming economy made Salt Lake City the natural choice to host the 2002 Olympic Winter Games.

Salt Lake City beckons major events like the Olympics with its beauty, location, economic strength, cultural and recreational opportunities and accessibility to the world. Money Magazine agreed, naming Salt Lake the West's most livable city in its December 2000 issue.

Surrounded by awe-inspiring geographical landmarks, Salt Lake City offers majestic views in all directions. To the east are the 11,500-foot peaks of the Wasatch Mountains ("mountains of many waters," as named by the Paiute Indians), the western-most Rocky Mountain range. To the west soar the Oquirrh Mountains (pronounced Oaker and meaning "the shining mountains"). In between is the Great Salt Lake, also known as America's Dead Sea. It is the world's second largest saltwater lake and is nine times saltier than an ocean.

Salt Lake's economy matches its natural wonders in impressiveness. City and State magazine, which is published for local government officials, ranked Salt Lake No. 1 among 195 cities in terms of economic strength. With a metropolitan population of 1,333,914, Salt Lake is the financial, educational, distribution, warehousing, commercial, cultural and communications hub of the Intermountain region. It is also center to world-renowned medical and technological industries. Of the 50 states, Utah has the second-largest concentration of computer software firms, one of the four largest concentrations of biomedical firms and 450 high tech firms employing 13,000 people.

Tourism is also a big employer. Skiing is a $500 million annual industry in Utah and most of those dollars are generated in the Salt Lake area. The 2002 Winter Olympics added millions of dollars to an already burgeoning Salt Lake economy. Seven world-class ski resorts are located within 30 minutes of Salt Lake International Airport and downtown Salt Lake, with four more less than an hour's drive away.

Cultural activities also flourish in Salt Lake City. The area enjoys a broad base of cultural, ethnic and religious diversity. Salt Lake has more professional dance companies than any city other than New York City and also boasts professional symphony, opera and theater. Fifteen art galleries are located in the downtown area. Hispanic, Native American and Asian/Pacific residents have higher numbers than the national average in Salt Lake City, while the African-American community is vibrant and growing.

Professional sports are big in Salt Lake City, with a National Basketball Association franchise (the Utah Jazz), Triple A baseball (the Salt Lake Stingers) and AHL hockey (the Utah Grizzlies).

Recreational opportunities abound, with 11 national parks less than a day's drive from Salt Lake City. Fly fishing, backpacking, mountain biking and river running are a part of life in Salt Lake City. LIFE Magazine has ranked Salt Lake City one of the top vacation getaways in the country. With four distinct seasons, a humidity average of 15 percent and mostly sunny days, Salt Lake offers pleasant weather conditions year round.

Salt Lake City's charms are easily accessible even to those from out of state. Salt Lake International Airport, the 25th busiest in the United States, is less than three hours flying time from half the population of the U.S. There are more than 500 daily arrivals and departures and eight major airlines operate from the airport. It is closer to the heart of the city it serves than any other major airport in the United States.
